

The Scientific Advisory Board of WIFO

The objectives of the Scientific Advisory Board are to provide a stronger integration of the Institute in the international scientific community as well as to promote knowledge transfer of research content and methods. The board also acts as an external quality control mechanism for WIFO's activities.

The members of the Board are active in universities and international organisations.

Its activities encompass the review of the overall work programme as well as the contribution of suggestions for the annual planning. In addition, it assists in both the medium term planning as well as specific core projects.
